

Contents

▪ NATO Summits	9
▪ NATO's Member Countries	11
▪ Foreword by Ambassador Alexander Vershbow	13
▪ Introduction	15
Part I
▪ Martin Stropnický (Minister of Defense of the Czech Republic) Czech Republic in NATO: From Admiration to Reliable Partner	23
▪ Csaba Hende (Minister of Defense of Hungary) The Door Should Remain Open	25
▪ Titus Corlăţean (Minister of Foreign Affairs of Romania, 2012 - 2014) An Indispensable Alliance. A View from Romania	27
▪ Solomon Passy (President of the Atlantic Club of Bulgaria) NATO Out-of-the-Box vs. the BRICS - SCO System: the Rising World Order (An Open Letter to NATO's Secretary General and Heads of States)	31
▪ Vasil Sikharulidze (President of the Atlantic Council of Georgia) Toward Europe Whole, Free and at Peace	45
▪ Arian Starova (President of the Atlantic Council of Albania) NATO's Enlargement as a Great Contribution to International Freedom, Peace and Security	51
Part II
▪ Tamás Csiki (Hungary) Lessons Learnt and Unlearned. Hungary's 15 Years in NATO	59
▪ Tomas Jančiūnas (Lithuania), Martynas Zapolskis (Lithuania) Lithuania as a Rational Free Rider in NATO	73
▪ Ieva Karpavičiūtė (Lithuania) Evolution of North-Atlantic Security Community and the Baltic States	89
▪ Sandro Knezović (Croatia), Zrinka Vučinović (Croatia) The Future of NATO in the New Security Environment. A Former Newcomer's View	103
▪ Zdeněk Kříž (Czech Republic) Disaster or Success? Evaluation of Worst Case Scenario	117
▪ Marek Madej (Poland) Poland and NATO's Future - Let's Get Serious About the Basics	131
▪ Péter Marton (Hungary), Péter Wagner (Hungary) The Impact of Hungary's NATO Membership: Intra-Alliance Adaptation Between Soft Constraints and Soft Subversion	137
▪ Eoin Micheál McNamara (Estonia/Latvia) When Contributions Abroad Mean Security at Home? The Baltic States and NATO Burden-Sharing in Afghanistan	153

▪ Arūnas Molis (Lithuania), Gerda Jakštaitė (Lithuania)	169
NATO's Transformation and Energy Security: The Perceptions and Role of a "Newcomer"
▪ Jaromír Novotný (Czech Republic)	183
NATO's "New" Mission: Back to its Roots
▪ Hcnrik Praks (Estonia)	189
Estonia and NATO: Back to Basics After a Decade of Membership
Part III
▪ Yulia K. Boguslavskaya (Russia)	207
Russia and NATO: Looking For the Less Pessimistic Scenario
▪ Dušan Fischer (Slovakia)	219
Slovakia's Perspective on NATO Enlargement
▪ Ryszard M. Machnikowski (Poland)	231
NATO and Ukraine - Russian Crisis
▪ Rade Rajkovevski (Republic of Macedonia), Dimitar Kirkovski (Republic of Macedonia)	246
Macedonian Membership in NATO: From a Clear Perspective to an Uncertain Anticipation
▪ Karl Salum (Estonia)	261
Finland and Sweden in NATO: Implications on NATO - Russia Relations
▪ Hanna Shelest (Ukraine)	275
Transformation of the NATO Partnership Concept in the Post-Soviet Space: Is Membership the Only Option?
▪ Stojan Slaveski (Republic of Macedonia), Ljubica Pendaroska (Republic of Macedonia)	287
The Impact and the Role of NATO on Political and Security Situation in Macedonia: "Yesterday, Today, Tomorrow"
Appendixes
▪ Contributors	303
▪ About Us	311