

Contents

CHAPTER I

GENERAL SEA TERMS

	Page
TERMS RELATING TO A SHIP—Terms for the parts of a ship—Terms defining position and direction within a ship—Terms defining the movement of a ship—Terms defining position and direction of objects outside the ship ... ..	1
TERMS RELATING TO SHIPPING, HARBOURS AND DOCKS—Draught and loading marks, and tonnage measurement—Docks, basins and slips—Jetties, piers, and similar structures—Miscellaneous ... ..	10
SEA MEASURES—Fathom—Cable—Nautical mile—Knot ... ..	17

CHAPTER II

TYPES OF SHIP

WARSHIPS—Battleship—Aircraft carrier—Cruiser—Fleet destroyer—Submarine—Escort vessels—Landing ships and craft—Coastal forces—Minelayers—Minesweepers—Harbour craft—Fleet auxiliaries ...	18
MERCHANT SHIPS—Typical merchant ship—Liner—Cargo liner—Freighter—Tanker—Bulk freighter—Coaster—Steam and motor fishing vessels ... ..	29
SAILING VESSELS—Classification—Masts and sails—Types and rigs—Sailing terms ... ..	37

CHAPTER III

DESIGN AND CONSTRUCTION OF WARSHIPS: ELEMENTARY SHIP CONSTRUCTION

INTERNAL FITTINGS—Constructional components and fittings of a compartment and their maintenance—Electrical and radio equipment—Electrical dangers ... ..	45
INTERNAL ARRANGEMENTS—Water-tight subdivision—Ventilation—Armament—Armour—Propelling machinery—Auxiliary machinery—Steering gear—Living spaces—Store and provision rooms—Fresh water tanks and supply system—Distribution of steam and electric power—Fire-main system—Pumping and flooding systems—Aircraft carriers ... ..	51
ELEMENTARY SHIP CONSTRUCTION—Hull stresses—Hull form—Hull plating—Main members of hull structure—"Stations" ... ..	63

CHAPTER IV

ROUTINE, PASSING ORDERS, AND ORGANISATION

	Page
ROUTINE—Time and watches—Striking the ship's bell—Daily harbour and sea routines—Make-and-mend—Guard and steerage ... ..	71
PASSING ORDERS—Piping and the boatswain's call—Piping chart and "pipes"—Bugle calls—Verbal orders—The phonetic alphabet ...	73
ORGANISATION—Command—Departments—Watches—Parts-of-ship—Divisions ... ..	79

CHAPTER V

ROPE AND ITS USAGE

CONSTRUCTION AND CHARACTERISTICS OF CORDAGE—Construction and types—Direction of the lay—General characteristics—Materials—Care and maintenance—Strength ... ..	85
CONSTRUCTION AND CHARACTERISTICS OF WIRE ROPE—Construction and types—Description and measurement—Strength—Comparison with cordage ... ..	89
HANDLING OF CORDAGE—Elementary rules—Terms used—Whipping—Permanent finishes for ropes' ends—Coiling and uncoiling, etc.—How to throw a heaving line—Belaying—Handling new rope—Storage—Examination ... ..	92
HANDLING OF WIRE ROPE—Kinking and crippling—Coiling and uncoiling—Handling new rope—Making a temporary eye with bull-dog grips ... ..	104
HANDLING OF HAWSERS—Safety rules—Orders and terms used in handling hawsers, ropes and cables ... ..	109
Bends and Hitches—Strength of knotted ropes—Terms used—Bends, hitches, and other fastenings used at sea ... ..	113
GENERAL ROPE WORK—Strops—Lashings—Slings and slinging—Spans—Whippings—Cordage splicing ... ..	123

CHAPTER VI

RIGGING

RIGGING FITTINGS—Shackles, thimbles and hooks—Eye-plates, eye-bolts and similar fittings—Rigging screws and slips ... ..	14
BLOCKS—Parts of, classification and types—Sheaves and bearings—Means of attaching—Description—Strength ... ..	14
PURCHASES AND TACKLES—Parts of—Mechanical advantage and velocity ratio—Reeving to advantage and disadvantage—Examples of tackles and purchases—Friction in ... ..	15
MASTS—Merchant ship's mast—Fidded topmast—Telescopic topmast—Warship's mast—Standing and running rigging ... ..	16
SPARS—Yards—Gaffs—Derricks and winches—Boat booms ... ..	16

CHAPTER VII
SHIP'S BOATS

	Page
Types and classes—Boat construction—Principal parts and fittings of a pulling and sailing boat—Checking the equipment of a pulling boat—Boat's distress signal box, boat's bag and carpenter's bag—Pulling orders and pulling drill—Sails and rigging—Elementary sailing rules—Sailing terms     ...     ...     ...     ...     ...     ...     ...	177

CHAPTER VIII
ANCHORS AND CABLES

Anchoring, mooring ship and securing to a buoy—Parts of an anchor—How an anchor holds—A ship's anchors—Arrangement of anchors and cables in large warships, destroyers, small warships, and merchant ships     ...     ...     ...     ...     ...     ...     ...     ...	200
--	-----

CHAPTER IX
THE MARINER'S COMPASS

Direction—Compass cards and methods of graduating them—Comparison of graduations by the Three-figure, Point, and Quadrantal methods—The gyro-compass—The magnetic compass—The boat's compass	208
--	-----

CHAPTER X
CONNING AND STEERING

Conning—How conning orders are obeyed—How a ship is steered—Rudder angle—Putting on and taking off rudder—Steering orders—Steering by compass and by eye—Hints on steering—Making good the course—Carrying rudder—Orders for helmsmen and quarter-masters—Orders for regulating the speed and movement of the engines     ...     ...     ...     ...     ...     ...     ...     ...	219
---	-----

CHAPTER XI
SOUNDING BY LEAD AND LINE

Boat's lead and line—Hand lead and line—Markings—How to mark the line—Calling the soundings—Heaving the lead—Sounding at night—Calling the ship's movement     ...     ...     ...     ...     ...	228
--	-----

CHAPTER XII
CHARTS: BUOYAGE: LIGHTS

	Page
Description of a chart and explanation of its indications—Buoyage, buoys, beacons, marks and lightships—Lights, and their characteristics and periods—Chart indications for lights—Admiralty publications on lights ... ..	234

CHAPTER XIII
NAVAL COMMUNICATIONS

HISTORICAL BACKGROUND ... ..	243
SYSTEMS OF COMMUNICATION AND THEIR USE—Abbreviations employed—The different systems—Use of precedence and security classifications ... ..	244
FLAG SIGNALLING—Construction of flag codes—Notes on learning the colours and meanings of flags ... ..	247
THE MORSE CODE—Construction of the Morse code—Alphabet and numerals—Special signs—Spacing—Teaching method ... ..	247
THE SEMAPHORE CODE—Alphabet, numerals and special signs—Method of instruction ... ..	251

CHAPTER XIV
NAVAL CEREMONIAL

FLAGS AND THEIR WEARING—Types of flags—The Union flag—Ensigns—Jacks—Commissioning or masthead pendant—The King's colour—Distinguishing flags—Other special flags and pendants—Wearing of colours—Dressing ship and illuminating ship ... ..	253
SALUTES AND MARKS OF RESPECT—Personal salutes—Salutes by bugle—Gun salutes—Salutes between ships—Reception of officers—Piping the side ... ..	260
NAVAL CUSTOMS AND CEREMONIES—Official visits—Entering harbour—Officer of the Guard—Man and cheer ship—Ceremony ashore—Badges and trophies—Launching ceremony—New Year's day—Splicing the main brace—Crossing the line—Garlands—Whistling—Acknowledging orders ... ..	262

APPENDIX

QUESTIONS

Questions on the text of each chapter, typical of those which may be asked of candidates for examination ... ..	266
---	-----

INDEX	279
-------	-----