

CONTENTS

INTRODUCTION	1
1. THE COMING OF WAR	25
2. ON THE BRINK OF DEFEAT	49
3. TRIUMPHS OF THE REPUBLIC	75
4. THE ASSAULT UPON EUROPE	107
5. WORLD WAR	139
6. THE SECOND COALITION	177
7. BONAPARTE AND EUROPE	215
8. NAPOLEONIC HEGEMONY	239
9. THE GRAND EMPIRE	269
10. COLLAPSE	303
11. THE DESTRUCTION OF FRENCH HEGEMONY	341
CONCLUSION	375
BIBLIOGRAPHY	387
INDEX	405

During the first half of the seventeenth century the Hapsburg dynasty lost its predominant position in Europe while Bourbon France, recovering from decades of civil strife, again became a major power. Cardinal Richelieu, the chief architect of the French revival, pursued a foreign policy designed to weaken both the Austrian and Spanish Hapsburgs. He gave diplomatic and financial support to princes engaged in hostilities against the